1) Samuel L Ipsum

I love Sam Jackson, but as you know he uses a LOT of really foul language. Now, I don't mind a foul mouth, but if that's not your thang, you've been warned! 😏 Here's a sample:

Normally,

Both your asses would be dead as fucking fried chicken, but you happen to pull this shit while I'm in a transitional period so I don't wanna kill you, I wanna help you. But I can't give you this case, it don't belong to me. Besides, I've already been through too much shit this morning over this case to hand it over to your dumb ass.

2) Bob Ross Lipsum

Just want happy little filler text? This one is "clean" and still pretty funny. Here's a sample:

I started painting as a hobby when I was little. I didn't know I had any talent. I believe talent is just a pursued interest. Anybody can do what I do. Just go back and put one little more happy tree in there. Everybody's different. Trees are different. Let them all be individuals. We'll put some happy little leaves here and there. These things happen automatically. All you have to do is just let them happen. Everyone wants to enjoy the good parts - but you have to build the framework first. Let's do that again. I'm gonna start with a little Alizarin crimson and a touch of Prussian blue. The very fact that you're aware of suffering is enough reason to be overjoyed that you're alive and can experience it. If you do too much it's going to lose its effectiveness. If you don't think every day is a good day - try missing a few. You'll see. In life you need colors. Fluff it up a little and hypnotize it. We can fix anything. Automatically, all of these beautiful, beautiful things will happen. There we go. Look at them little rascals.

3) Game of Thrones Ipsum*

Big fan? ME TOO. Not a fan of the way it ended, buuuuut that's another topic entirely. Here's what their ipsums generate, in the Common Tongue:

The night is dark and full of terrors. The winds of Winter. What is dead may never die. And now his watch is ended. The battle of the redgrass field. Unbowed, Unbent, Unbroken. All men must die.

in High Valyrian:

Nuhor lir gureнна. Skorī demalyti tymptir tymis, erinis ia morphulis. Valar morphulis. Sikudi nopazmi! Tubi daor. Tubi daor. Hen syndrorro, onos. Hen nuqir, perzys. Hen morphot, glaeson.

in Dothraki:

Anha dothrak chek asshekh. Athdavrazar! San athchomari yeraan. San athchomari yeraan. Nevakhi vekha ha maan: Rekke, m'aresakea norethi fitte. Ifas maisi yeri. Yer affesi anni.

in Hodor (if you're a fan of Game of Thrones, as am I, then you'll know this one really isn't good for more than a laugh; here's a sample anyway):

Hodor. Hodor, Hodor, Hodor, Hodor. Hodor! Hodor, Hodor, Hodor. Hodor, Hodor. Hodor, Hodor, Hodor, Hodor. Hodor, Hodor, Hodor, Hodor.

4) Office Ipsum

This gem generates the kind of talk you hear in corporate meetings, AND the kind of comments clients can give designers.

It's not always grammatically correct, pronouns aren't always capitalized and punctuation can be missing, but it's still pretttty funny. If you copy the copy (ha) and tweak it, you could paste the corrected version somewhere for easy access later. Here's a sample of the meeting jargon:

We need to future-proof this win-win-win.

Great plan! Let me diarize this, and we can synchronize ourselves at a later timeframe, for strategic staircase wiggle room. Idea shower: what's our go to market strategy? Table the discussion; I just wanted to give you a heads-up, and run it up the flag pole for a performance review.

It's a simple lift and shift job. Throughput criticality, pre-think our game-plan. So if you could do that, that would be great for critical mass. Pull in ten extra bodies to help roll the tortoise, a loss a day will keep you focused, then loop back. Back-end of third quarter, meeting assassins get buy-in to close the loop. When does this sun set?

And here's a sample of their client revision-related jargon:

The website doesn't have the theme I was going for.

Something summery; colorful. This looks perfect. Just Photoshop out the dog, add a baby, and make the curtains blue. We also need to add this 2000 line essay. Can the black be darker? Can you make it stand out more? I know you've made thirty iterations, but can we go back to the first one? That was the best version I remember. I'll know it when I see it; that's not what I saw in my head at all. Can you put "find us on facebook" by the facebook logo?
